Schreiber Colt Easily Captured Feature Event at the Fair Grounds Track

IN STRONG RACE. VESTRY

Goldblatt Mare Showed Speed for Three-Quarters-Martius Won the Three-Year-Old Feature.

Deutschland ran a good race at the Fair Grounds yesterday and won in handy fashion, after Vestry had shown the way for more than six furlongs. The from second place to the fore, if neces-

Vestry is now racing in the colors of Mrs. Goldblatt. She showed better form that in her starts of last season. Her time for the first six furlongs of her race was excellent. Fatalist ran disappointingly. On the strength of her race in the Kinloch In-augural, the Bratton mare was played heavily by those who did not relish the 7-to-10 price against Deutschland. She did nothing to show that she even re-membered her race of last Friday. Jack Young was badly kicked at the post. The Baker colt was last at the first quarter and stayed last throughout. But at the end he was coming strongly, and it is an open question strongly, and it is an open question whether his race can be taken as indicative of his present ability.

One of the most impressive wins of the day was that of Irish Jewel. The Civil gelding finished in front of Duelist, just as he did in their previous meeting here. Getting off in front, giving place to Duelist at the quarter, and then holding the Schorr gelding in her lap for three-quarters of a mile, Irish Jewel came strongly at the finish and won easily.

LEE KING WINS.

Lee King duplicated his New Orleans.

Lee King duplicated his New Orleans performances by coming strongly at the close of the mile and one-sixteenth race close of the mile and one-sixteenth race and winning from Lingo. The Trotter mare showed the way for a period, looked to be running strongly down the linal furiong and then gave way to King, who came rather handly in the last sixteenth, and won.

Durham's colt, Platoon, won the opening race on the card. Platoon was not favored particularly warmly for this race on account of the presence of one or two good youngsters, or, rather, of youngsters said to be extra good.

J. B. Sheridan, from the Cahn stable, was one of these. Lou Cahn had predicted great things for this black colt. In consequence, play on the young racer was considerable, the odds seeming to attract quite a number of the women bettors. As the barrier flew up, however, Sheridan braced himself on tip toe and refused to budge. Platoon came home handly.

Sceptre was favorite in the twelve-refused to budge. Platoon came home handily.

Sceptre was favorite in the twelve-horse field of the second race. He was held at $ to 5. Instead of getting off in front, as the former Bunbury entry was wont to do, Sceptre got off badly, trailed the middle of the field for a few furlongs and failed to outrun Floral Wreath at the end.

Floral Wreath was held at $ to 1 in the betting, and won in rather handy fashion. In the third race, an event for 3-year-olds, Martius, the favorite, won. He paced along behind Redman to the stretch head. Then Miley's colt came on and won going away. Redman decided he had done enough at the end of seven furlongs and a half, and retired to fourth blace. gs and a half, and retired to fourth seems as if they will run back to their position of last Saturday.

Malster carried ill pounds on his last out, and beat Scorpio by a length and one-half, riding easily. Scorpio had life on that occasion. Each picks up five pounds to-day. This makes their chances seem about the same. Malster won as if he had something up his sleeve, while Scorpio had rather a stormy time at the barrier. It appears like a close fit between the pair. Frank Bell showed the way for about five furlongs on that occasion. He was in with Sylvia Talbot, who went to the front at a great pace. Bell raced alongside of the Schreiber filly, and, whether they ran themselves into the ground or whether Bell has had too much of it in the last winter, both seemed to tire at the end. If Bell gets off well, has smooth satting and is not troubled by too much cariy pace, thus giving him a fair lead in his usual front running tacties, he should have a fair chance with Maister and Scorpio. It appears as if the Gay entry could come more strongly in the stretch, however, and as if the race lay between Scorpio and himself.

In the opening race, Sonya, Figue, Dot-

ever, and as if the race lay between Scorplo and himself.

In the opening race, Sonya, Pique, Dotage and the Doctress are entered. They all met in their last out and finished as named. Sonya was second by two lengths and has six pounds off to-day. Pique was two lengths back and has three pounds off. Dotage has twelve pounds off, her last out and was a neck back of Pique. The Doctress was a neck further back and has seven pounds off.

On this form, Sonya should win to-day. The positions behind her count but little in these four-furlong scrambes, when the race was run in harum-scarum fashion, as it was on the last out of the youngsters. Pique finished so gamely that he may be credited with second place to-day, and Dipper may be conceded a chance to finish third.

Lady Vasht will be dangerous in the second race to-day if she is near her last season's form. But she is said to have been worked rather easily of late. On his race of last week, Sharp Bird looks the best Sharp Bird won at five and one-half furiongs last week, and has a pound off to-day. He should be ahe to repeat. Fickle Saint performed indifferently yesterday, although flashing for an instant. Jake Weber has been doing fairly well in races of longer distance in the South.

A summary of the event would put Sharp Bird first, Fickle Saint second and Jake Weber possibly third. This is a fruitful field for interlopers to lope in, however.

Bugle Horn is supposed to be extra good just now. He certainly won in handy enough fashion last week. Charley Thompson may be dangerous, after winning at six furiongs with nine pounds more weight, but it appears as if Bugle Horn could be conceded first position. Redman, on the strength of the speed he showed in the early stages yesterday, may be second.

Ingolthrift may be able to get first money in the fifth. Martius showed great form yesterday at a longer distance, but commenced a trifle slowly. Lucian looks good for a show bet.

Potente has eight pounds off his last race, and should better his indifferent performance on that occasion. Weird looks good for second place and Lynch for third in the last.

NOTES OF THE QUARTER STRETCH ture of Day's Racing.

Men with the halter were in evidence at cases of boosting and one case of claim-The capturing of Duelist by J. J. Ogles was a feature of the day.

Duelist ran second to Irish Jewel in the fifth race. He was entered for $800. Ogles raised him to $1.100, and at this price his stable let the gelding go. It surely appears as if Ogles had made a better deal than did Lacy Crawford, who purchased Bugle Horn for practically the same figure Sat-

Horn for practically the same figure Saturday.

Duelist looks as if he were worth two or three Bugle Horns. He was in at slightly too long a distance yesterday, but should

J. B. Sheridan, the 2-year-old from the Cahn stable, was played fairly well upon information from the stable that he had shown rather good form of late. He proved a disappointment by stopping at the post and refusing to break. Starter A. B. Dade explained his show-ing by stating that Sheridan falled to un-

Friday at the Union track ladies will be the guests of the management. They must be accompanied by escorts. Manager Carmody said that the matter of making this a permanent practice will be considered at the directors' meeting Saturday. Under pay conditions there has been a large quota of women in the grand stand, and it is fair to presume that the mammoth stand will be a vertiable sea of beauty, pretty gowns and flowers and feathers Friday.

The Union track management is making arrangements with Eastern and Southern poolrooms for handling its races. "Charlie" Primrose, the manager of the betting ring, yesterday exchanged several telegrams favorable to the proposition.

Mr. Carmody says he has applications for stable room for more than 100 horses, many of which are top-notchers, but, owing to the carpenters' strike, he is having difficulty in meeting the demands, and is only enabled to receive small strings at a time. Tommy Burke of Memphis yesterday wired an application for room for ten horses.

It is said that there will be several spe-cial feature days at the Union track. On one of the days an "Ek's Handicap" with a large purse will have a place on the card.

Many of the bettors were wondering: What's in a name-Sauerkraut won the first race.

Judge R. D. Walsh yesterday had his first experience at the Union track, with one of those "hair-raising" finishes, of which, as a well-known sporting writer, he has often written. Four horses flashing under the wire noses apart is well in-tended to raise the hair of any judge.

tended to raise the hair of any judge.

Gould, the crack Eastern jumper, who made such a poor showing in the hurdle race at Union Park yesterday, has two immense ossilages on each fetlock joint. He is rated a fine cross-country horse, but made a poor showing yesterday, though ridden hard.

The wind blew down two hurdles on the back stretch and the horses did not have to jump high. To this Mr. Fox, who handles Gould, attributes his poor showing. The best horses in the East have had trouble giving Gould ten pounds.

Memphis, Tean., April 15.—The Memphis Stake, the richest prize for juvenlies that is given by the New Memphis Jockey Club, was decided to-day, and was won by C. R. Ellison's Ledy Ellison, a daughter of the newly imported stallion Woodsthorpe, and Amabel. The stake was worth in the aggregate £3,300, and had a net value of £,790 to the winner.

By capturing this event, Ellison has gathered to himself all the 2-year-old stakes of the meeting. He took the Gaston Hotel Stakes with John Smulrki, the Ardelle Stake for fillen, with Miss Ines, and to-day made it a triple crown with Lady Ellison. His victory establishes a record for himself and his clever trainer, J. P. Mayberry, as they are the first to win all three stakes at one meeting.

Eight were named through the entry box on Saturday, but Magic, Loonam and New Iberia were withdrawn, and J. W. Schorr added Vidalla, making an even half a dozen to face the barrier. Lady Ellison and John Smulski were the favorites in the betting, the Schorr pair, Vidalia and Useful Lady, were second choice, with Gold Enamel and Blue Bird the outsiders.

Biarter Murray was unfortunate in getting them away to a straggling start, which Useful Lady got the best of, and she was soon swinging out in front with a dangerous lead. Lady Ellison went right after her with Vidalla foliowing, and the trio close up as they swung for home. The final struggle narrowed down between Lady Ellison and Vidalia, and, in a whipping finish, the Ellison filly won by a neck, with Vidalia second, four lengths in front of John Smulski.

The Murray-Corrigan investigation was brought before the Executive Committee in star chamber session this morning, and it was given out that all the testimony had been heard and the committee had taken the matter under advisement. W. REPUBLIC SPECIAL

The attendance at the Union track yesterday was close to 3,000, which the management considered a very satisfactory

The betting was heavy, and the bookmakers were punished on Alline Abbott in the second race. While the mare was not the favorite, she was played strong as a good thing at 6 to 1, and went through. The price on the A. Bellew & Co. entry in the third was almost prohibitive, yet the wise dollars went that way. Sauer Kraut, Dutch Carter, both favorites, and Tom Olney, a second choice, rewarded their backers.

The warm weather and the improve ment in the horses and the track all tended to make the third day at the ment in the horses and the tack at tended to make the third day at the Union better all around than the previous days.

The third race was really intended as the feature, but the fifth race, with four horses nosing under the wire in a heart-disease finish, really was the star event of the day.

The judges, under high pressure, caught Tom Onley first by a nose, Tlomaine second, Bluish third and Low Cut fourth. It was by far the prettlest finish so far witnessed at the track.

Schoen, who rode Bluish successfully last Saturday, was up on him yeaterday, but the ride he gave the Daly horse was strongly criticised.

In the Owners' Handicap, Pronta, who was coupled in the betting with The Messenger, won handily, although Lee Jackson came near catching Fisher napping, and the latter was forced to give the mare a vigorous drive to stand off the rush made by Gates at the finish. The Messenger, with only seventy-six pounds, was again a disappointment. McBeth set the pace nearly all the way, but could not last.

Deer Hunter, at 3 to 5, was handily besten by Alline Abbott in the second

The days of the Sack Coat for professional men's wear are, like those of the calendar, numbered. The Business Frock, with its suggestion of dignity, without formality—with its dash of snappy style that is businesslike without being conspicuous-is the professional man's coat that is fast superseding the Sack.

Results at Oakland.

San Francisco, Cal., April 18.—Ebony upset calculations at Oakland to-day by winning the calculations at Oakland to-day by winning the last race at odds of 40 to 1. Owing to his recent poor showing and the presence of McBride in the saidle, the colt was overlooked. After Flaneur tired Ebony took the lead and won as he nelessed by five lengths from Oro Viva. Flaneur was third. Northwest, the favorite, was never prominent. Three of the first choices came home in front.

the pace nearly all the way, but could not last.

Deer Hunter, at 3 to 5, was handlly beaten by Alline Abbott in the second race. Alline broke like a flash, took the lead and was never headed and won under restraint.

In the sixth, a field of six started in the first hurdle race at the new track. Gould was considered the class of the field, but Varner, under an excellent ride by Earl, won easily. Fearful broke down in the back stretch, was pulled up, and his race days are likely over. He was in the bunch and running nicely when the breakdown came.
